

Severance & Redundancy Account

Australia's leading industry severance scheme

The superior benefits offered by Protect makes ours the preferred industry scheme for over 50,000 workers throughout Australia.

Who is Protect?

We are Australia's leading industry severance scheme and providers of superior income protection insurance.

Since 2000, we have set the pace across diverse industries including electrical, manufacturing, maritime, fire rescue, rail and civil construction.

Our primary purpose is to support you and your family during periods of unemployment, illness, injury or personal difficulty. We achieve this by offering workers a range of services, including:

- Paying severance or redundancy claims to workers when they cease employment
- Facilitating income protection insurance*
- Offering wellbeing services, including free counselling, to members and their families

As a member of Protect, you are part of the industry scheme preferred by more than 50,000 workers and 1,200 employers Australia wide.

How do I become a Protect member?

To join, your employer must register you with Protect. Employers then pay severance contributions and/or income protection insurance premiums to us on your behalf, in accordance with a certified industrial agreement.

* The insurance policies administered by Protect are held by the relevant industry union, and are issued by ATC Insurance Solutions. Please visit www.atcis.com.au for further information regarding the benefits, exclusions and limitations of these policies.

Who contributes to my Protect account?

Employers contribute to a Protect severance account on behalf of their workers, providing a safety net for them should they become unemployed.

Employer contribution amounts are determined by each workplace agreement and therefore the amounts vary.

When can I make a claim?

Workers with a Protect account receiving severance may make a claim at any time they leave employment including:

- Redundancy
- Resignation
- Termination
- Retirement
- Promotion to an above award position 'off the tools'
- Total and permanent disability
- Death (via beneficiaries)

You don't have to remain unemployed to make a claim on your Protect severance account. If you're in new employment you can make a retrospective claim from a previous employer.

Will I be eligible for a tax free component?

The tax you pay is set by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) and is determined by the reason your employment ended.

- If your employer makes you genuinely redundant your initial severance claim will be paid to you tax free up to the maximum amount allowed by the ATO
- If your employment is terminated for any other reason your initial claim will be taxed

Tables on pages 6 and 7, and notes on page 11 of this brochure detail claim tax information.

How do I make a claim?

If your employment ceases, a claim can be made from the Protect App at any time. A claim feature is also available when you log in to your account via the workers portal at the Protect website www.protect.net.au

🖰 Workers Login

Steps to claim payment:

1. Your employer updates their online Protect account with your employment status

However, you may proceed with your claim as soon as you have separated from your employment.

You complete a Protect claim

For fastest results, submit a claim via the App. Start at the home screen, select 'make a claim' and follow the prompts.

Any missing details are followed up

If your employer hasn't provided us with a termination date, you may upload a separation certificate as confirmation of termination. Otherwise, we will contact your employer to confirm your termination status.

4. Your claim is paid into your nominated bank account Please allow 1-3 business days for the funds to clear.

Will I find a payment summary online?

With the implementation of single touch payroll (STP), claims that attract tax (i.e. any claim excluding a genuine redundancy claim) will have payment summary information made available via your myGov account: my.gov.au

Where do l access my statement?

1. Use the Protect App:

Access historical statements via the App by selecting the 'me' tab on the bottom right of screen, followed by 'statements'.

What is my Preservation Age?

Your preservation age is generally the age that you can retire and access your superannuation or other retirement-related benefits. Your preservation age depends on your date of birth and affects the rate of tax you will pay.

Protect members who have retired and are over their preservation age may claim their entire severance balance.

Date of Birth	Preservation Age
Before 1 July 1960	55
1 July 1960 - 30 June 1961	56
1 July 1961 - 30 June 1962	57
1 July 1962 - 30 June 1963	58
1 July 1963 - 30 June 1964	59
After 30 June 1964	60

What age do I qualify for the pension?

The pension age is relevant to some Protect members as ATO rules only allow tax free redundancy up to pension age.

From 1 July 2023, the age pension qualifying age is 67 years.

Date of Birth	Age Pension Qualifying Age
1 July 1952 to 31 December 1953	65 years and 6 months
1 January 1954 to 30 June 1955	66 years
1 July 1955 to 31 December 1956	66 years and 6 months
On or after 1 January 1957	67 years

Additional Tax Information

Late Termination Payments

We are legally required to withhold 47% tax from claims made beyond 12 months of your retirement/termination date. For example, if you are terminated on 1/05/2024, and lodge your initial claim on 2/05/2025, your claim will be taxed at 47%.

This does not apply to genuine redundancy claims.

Employment Termination Payment Cap

An Employment Termination Payment (ETP) is taxed at concessional rates in accordance with tax legislation, up to the ETP Cap. The ETP Cap is an amount determined by the ATO and is indexed annually. From 1 July 2024, the ETP Cap is $245,000.

Amounts up to the Cap are currently taxed at 32%* or at 17%* if you have reached your preservation age. Amounts in excess of the Cap are taxed at 47%*.

*including the Medicare Levy of 2%

Deceased Claim Tax Rates

If you die, payments from your Protect severance account are generally not taxed if the beneficiaries are your financial dependents. If your beneficiaries are not your financial dependents, 32% tax will generally apply to the payment from your account.

Whole-of-Income Cap

Any payment received not resulting from redundancy may also be subject to higher taxation via your personal tax return, if your taxable income plus this payment exceeds $180,000.

Please consult your financial advisor if you believe this may apply to you.

Other payments and Government Benefits

Your Protect severance payment may affect other Commonwealth Government benefits, such as the family tax benefit, childcare benefit and private health insurance rebate.

You should consult your financial advisor, the Australian Tax Office or Centrelink for advice on how your personal circumstances may be affected.
